

Welcome, Paul and James

Since our last newsletter, we've welcomed two new members to the team at EG Coles:

Paul Sullivan •
Service Technician

A face that will already be familiar to many of our customers, Paul Sullivan joins us as a specialist technician. A factory-trained Case technician, Paul has extensive practical experience with many different brands of agricultural machinery including Case IH, Kverneland, Manitou, HiSpec, and Bomford.

Paul's knowledge and experience ranges from standard servicing work, to more complex jobs including complete rebuilds of engines, transmissions, axles and hydraulic systems, and everything in between. In addition, he has established a reputation of always putting the customer first, focusing on getting them back to work as soon as possible.

James Watts • Parts Assistant

With over 19 years of experience in the parts business, James joined us in the summer. A welcome addition to the Parts Department, his role includes serving customers and assisting technicians. James says:

"I really enjoy working at EG Coles, and am enjoying getting to know tractors and the parts that go on them. It is interesting to find out the differences and similarities between the agriculture and the motor trade industries."
